

How to - Hanging Organiser

Materials needed:

- 1m x 90cm calico cotton
- 50cm x 112cm printed cotton
- Thread to match
- 50cm+ dowel or bamboo pole
- 25mm cotton ribbon
- 1m x 6mm macrame cord
- Fabric glue
- Hanger templates (1 back, 1 front, 1 top row pocket, 1 mid row pocket, 2 freestanding pockets.)

Trace

Trace out all of your templates. Trace the backing onto the calico cotton. Trace the front onto the printed cotton. Trace the pockets onto the remaining calico. Cut out all templates.

Hem

Fold each edge of all pockets inwards about 5mm. Iron this hem flat on all pockets, to create a flat and even edge for each pocket.

Pin

On the right side of your front, pin each pocket into place, putting the pins through the clean edges you have just created.

Sew

On your machine, straight stitch each pocket onto the right side of your front. Line up the edge of the pocket with the right side of your foot to maintain an even stitch across the pockets.

Ribbons

Cut 3 x 7cm lengths of your cotton ribbon. Fold each of the cut ribbons in half and iron to complete the fold.

Pin

With the raw edges together, pin each of the ribbons to the top of your right side front, one in the centre and one either side. Make sure the fold faces the bottom of your organiser.

Pin

Place your calico backing on top of the front of the organiser. It will look inside out. Pin around the entire edge of the organiser. Match up the edges as close as possible.

Sew

With the edges lined up on the right side of the foot, sew a neat and even line around the entire edge of the organiser, leaving a 5-10cm gap at the bottom of the organiser. This is to pull it inside out.

Flip inside out

Turn the organiser inside out, by pulling it through the gap left at the bottom. Once turned, iron the edges so they are flat and neat, tucking in the unsewn gap to make a clean edge.

Sew

With the edges lined up on the right of the foot, sew a straight seam around the entire organiser to create an even and polished looking edge.

Finishing

Hang the organiser on the rod, tie the macrame twice around each end and glue it in place.

Well done on finishing your organiser!
